ABOUT CBW SOCCER ELITE

PROVEN SUCCESS HELPING PLAYERS GET RECRUITED

Chris Bart-Williams is a retired EPL midfielder, professional coach, and the founder of CBW Soccer Elite, a family-owned recruiting and training company that prepares athletes for college competition. For over a decade, Chris has used his deep knowledge of player development and his vast network of college coaches to help student-athletes get recruited to college soccer programs.

At CBW Soccer Elite, we understand that each family's recruiting experience is unique, but that all college journeys come with stress. We offer personalized recruiting assistance, private lessons, training clinics, ID camps, and insightful articles to help take the uncertainty out of your family's college recruitment process.

Our staff of advisers are former professional players, college coaches, administrators and educators who have extensive experience helping players get recruited to the nation's top college programs.
